

Number of proteins in a function divided by number of all proteins in species

